HISTORY MAJOR
PROGRAM OF STUDY

Name_______________________________________  Advisor______________________________________

In the spaces provided below, the student, in conjunction with his/her faculty advisor, should list the courses he/she plans to take to satisfy the requirements of the major. On the back the student should describe the rationale behind the chosen program and course selections. This plan of study may be modified with the approval of the advisor. A new program of study form reflecting the changes should be signed and dated by both the student and the advisor. Students are urged to select an area of specialization and complete the program rationale within a semester of declaring the history major, and must complete it no later that the second semester of the junior year.

The program must be planned in consultation with an advisor. A copy of the program, signed by one's advisor, must be placed in one's file no later that the second semester of one's junior year. Courses at the 700-level will be judged by the advisor as to their applicability for area of specialization or complementation.

A student's program of study must include two parts: (1) an area of specialization. A student must select at least four courses (500 level or above) to serve as an area of specialization within the major. Up to two courses (each 4 credits or their equivalent) in the area of specialization may be taken in other departments; such courses must be at the 500-level or above and have the approval of the student's adviser. The area of specialization may be in a nation, region, a time period, or an interdisciplinary field. (2) Complementary courses. A student must select, in consultation with his or her adviser, at least three history courses in fields outside the area of specialization, chosen to broaden his or her understanding of the range of history.

For transfer students, a minimum of five of the semester courses used to fulfill the major requirements must be taken at the University. One upper-level course may be transferred to satisfy the requirement that a major must take at least three courses numbered 600 or above. Transfer students must complete both HIST 500 or its equivalent and HIST 797.
