

Program Overview

The UNH Health Professions Continuing Education Program permits those individuals who have earned a bachelors from an accredited college or university to complete the course requirements for admission to medical school and other professional healthcare programs. This program is typically completed within 1 – 2 years and is designed to serve two populations of students:

- Students who wish to improve their undergraduate GPAs for admission.
- Career changers who need to take the prerequisite coursework for the first time.

Students must earn a “B” or better for courses taken at UNH while enrolled in the post-baccalaureate program.
